Each route must be hid for separately. The route, the sum, the mode of service, and the resi-dence of the bidder, should be distinctly stated in each bid.

2. No proposal will be considered unless it be accompanied by a guaranty signed by two responsible persons in the following form, viz.

"The undersigned and guaranty that if his bid for carrying the mail good and sufficient sureties, to perform the service proposed"

Dated " , 1836."

This should be accompanied by the certificate of a postmaster, or other equivalent testimony, that the guarantors are men of property, and able to make good their guaranty. Ly No exemption from this requirement is allowed in favor of old contractors, railroad companies, or any other companies or persons whatever.

3. The distances as stated in this advertisement are believed to be substantially correct; but the bidder will inform himself on that point, as no increased pay will be allowed for any difference when the places are named correctly.

4. The schedules are arranged as to allow seven minutes to each post office for opening and closing mails generally, and one hour to the distributing post offices; but the Postmaster General may extend the time on allowing like extension to the contractors.

post offices; but the Postmaster General may extend the time on allowing like extension to the contractors.

5. The Postmaster General may alter the schedule, and alter the route, he allowing a prorata increase of compensation for any additional service required, and for any increased speed, when the employment of additional stock or carriers is rendered necessary.

6. He may discontinue or curtail the service whenever he shall consider it expedient to do so, he allowing one month's extra pay on the amount dispensed with.

7. He may impose fines for failure to take or deliver a mail or any part of a mail; for suffering the mail to be injured, wet, lost, or destroyed; and may exact a forfeiture of the pay of the trip, whenover the trip is lost, or the mail arrives so far behind schedule time as to lose connection with a depending mail.

8. He may annul the contract for repeated failures to perform any of the stipulations, for refusing to discharge a carrier when required, for violating the Post Office law, for disobeying the instructions of the Department, or assigning a contract, without the previous consent of the Post-master General.

9. If the contractor shall run a stage or other vehicle more rapidly or more frequently than he is required by the contract to carry the mail, he shall give the same increased celerity and frequency to the mail, and without increase of compensation.

10. Contractors on stage and coach routes shall,
